

Working Restoratively with the Substance Abusing Population

Beth Smull MRPYC, CADAC

REFLECTION

“It helps now and then to step back and take the long view.”

“We can’t do everything and there is a sense of liberation in that.”

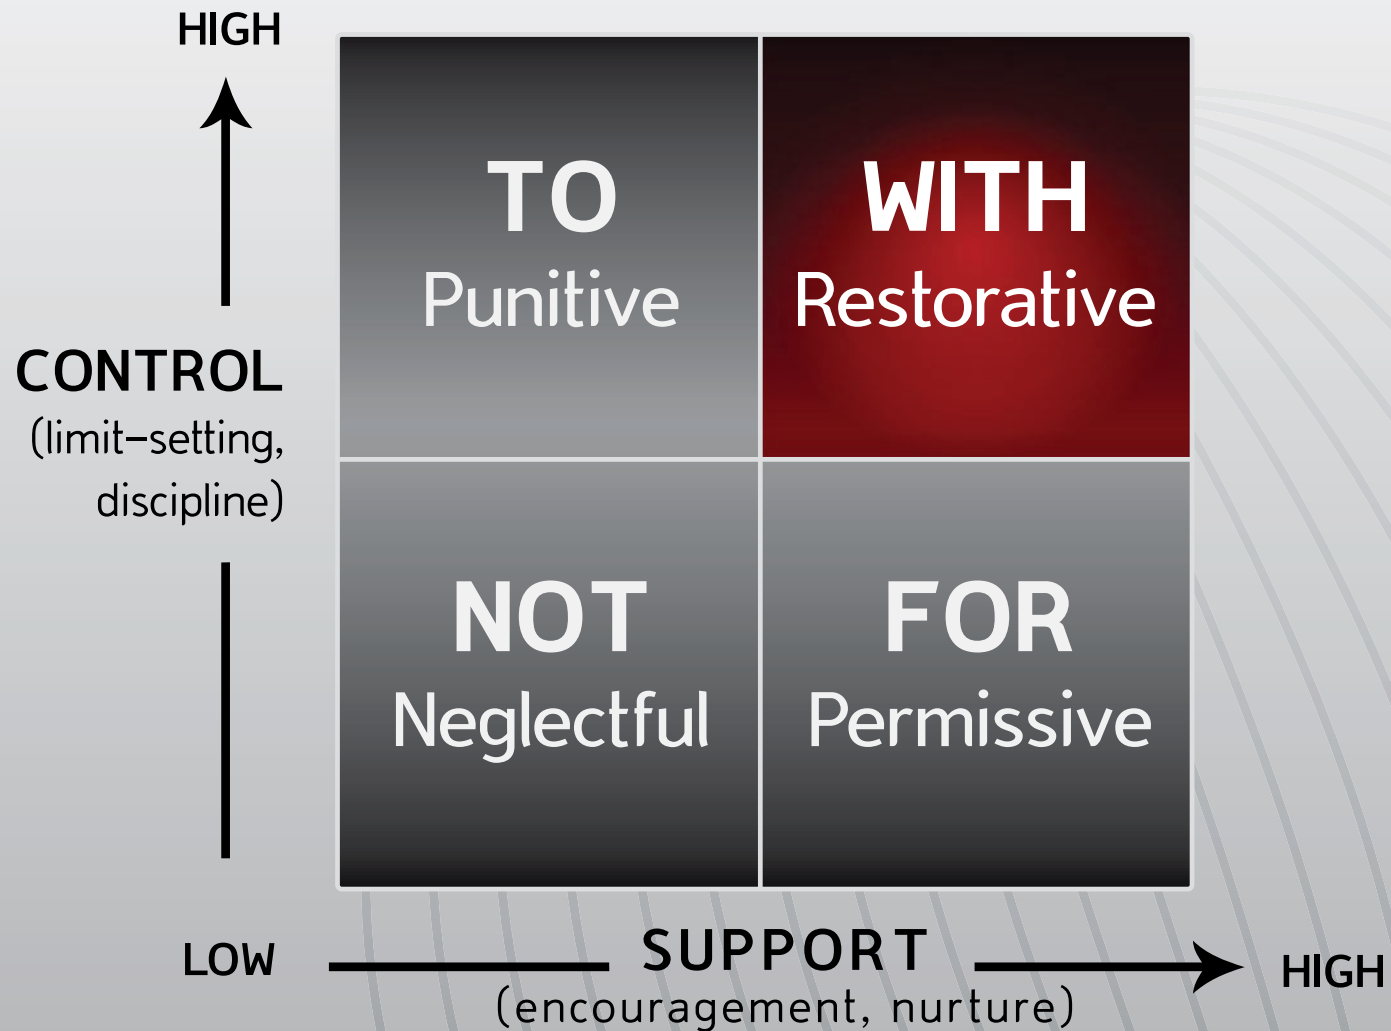

“We can do something and we need to do that well.”

“We plant the seed that one day will grow; we may never see the end result.”

“We provide the yeast that produces effects far beyond our capabilities.”

-Archbishop Oscar Romero Catholic priest murdered for his stand against injustice in Latin America

SOCIAL DISCIPLINE WINDOW

Adapted by Paul McCold and Ted Wachtel from Glaser, 1969

RESTORATIVE PRACTICES CONTINUUM

informal

ffective
statements

ffective
questions

small impromptu
conference

group
or circle

formal conference

formal

Restorative Question Cards

Discussion:

Brainstorm ways you can utilize the question cards in Individual, family, and group setting.

Restorative Questions

The questions:

Help to engage clients

Help clients take responsibility for their Actions

Help clients experience empathy

RESTORATIVE PRACTICES CONTINUUM

informal

formal

ffective
statements

ffective
questions

small impromptu
conference

group
or circle

formal
conference

Ways to Incorporate Restorative Practices

How can we work “with” our clients in the following areas:

Intake

Treatment Planning

Individual sessions

Groups

Family Sessions

Aftercare Planning